DPL Energy is a competitive retail electric supplier. By switching to DPL Energy you will still receive the distribution of your electric and your electric bill from your local utility company. Outages will be handled by your local utility company.

Now you can SAVE ON YOUR ELECTRIC COSTS with DP&L Energy and the Waynesville Area Chamber of Commerce

Who is DP&L Energy?

DP&L Energy is a competitive retail electric supplier that's been saving our customers money on electric costs since 2001. DP&L Energy is a sister company of Dayton Power & Light and both are owned by parent Company DPL Inc., which was acquired by the Fortune 200 global power company AES in 2011.

Why doesn't my local utility just lower my rate?

Regulated electric utilities charge rates set by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO). Pricing for DP&L Energy is unregulated, so we can set our prices according to market conditions.

Why should I switch?

Because you might be paying too much for your electricity. Sign up now and save on the most significant portion of your electric bill – your generation charges. After you switch, your utility continues to send you your bill, maintain your lines, restore outages and read your meter.

Are the savings worth it?

Absolutely. With lower wholesale electricity prices available now, this is a great time to switch and take control of your energy budget.
